LOWTHER SCHOOL FAMILY NEWSLETTER

Twitter Special!

This newsletter is a Twitter Special in that many of the news features on here are the ones I've tweeted over the last month or so. We very much use the school's Twitter feed as our way of blogging updates for all families. You DO NOT need to follow us, you DO NOT need to log in to Twitter or have a Twitter account. All you need to do is go to the school website www.Lowther.richmond.sch.uk and click on "latest news"

The Twitter feed is built into the school website. Check it out!

Thank you!

A HUGE thank you for not using the office lobby as an entrance—the office team have noticed a marked improvement. It makes such a difference to how the team is able to communicate with parents and children.

Keeping Children Safe Online

Thank you to those of you that came to the Staying Safe online workshop. I went along and I thought it was really excellent. The notes from the workshop along with a range of resources for parents will be made available soon. We've been doing a lot of work with the children around E-Safety as it's such an important part of every day life. We hope to run further parent workshops in the future but if you'd like to know more about keeping children safe online do speak to your children's class teacher, Mr. Bracken or myself. Please also view the Online Safety information, advice and helpful links available on the Lowther website by clicking here.

Skipper's Scoop—coming soon

Look out for the latest edition of the Scoop hitting the Lowther newsstand soon. The editorial team are working super hard to ensure it's out before Christmas.

Sporting Success

We're having some super sports performances this year. There have been some great results for our football teams in Y34 and the girls and boys teams in Y56. Check out Twitter for updates.
